Need to ban illicit mobile devices from your market?

In 2017 the OECD reported that nearly 1 in 5 mobile phones shipped internationally was fake. For Governments, mobile device fraud such as smuggling and counterfeit results in massive revenue loss and potential security issues.

To bring an efficient answer to these challenges, Mobiclear® interacts with the systems of local Mobile Network Operators and regulatory agencies to prevent any device either illegally imported, cloned, stolen, substandard or even fake from being used on national networks.

MobiClear® relies on the creation and administration of a national database of IMEI codes of all mobile devices, enabling Authorities to grant access to rightful mobile devices only and to carry out a real-time detection of fraudulent devices.
